

BTS Skytrain:

Provides a fairly cheap and rapid option for traveling within the city. Skytrain stations can mostly be found along Sukhumvit, Silom and Phaholyothin roads. The routes connect Bangkok's business and noted shopping areas.

MRTA Subway (Metro):

The MRTA is another fast and comfortable transportation alternative which runs underground. The Silom and Sukhumvit stations are connected to the BTS.

Tuk-Tuk:

These small, three-wheeled and open-air motorized taxis are so conducive for short trips in Bangkok. Fares are negotiated in advance as there are no standard fares. A Tuk-Tuk ride will afford you a memorable experience of Bangkok.

Bus:

Bangkok is interlaced with plenty of bus routes going in all directions. Buses are extremely cheap and prices are based on the distance and air conditioning. You pay the bus conductor once you are on the bus. Entry can be from any door.

Taxis:

Taxis are relatively cheap, however Bangkok traffic is often at gridlock so allow a greater journey time. Taxis are metered and the price is calculated by the distance. There are additional fees for hiring in the airport and travelling on tollways.

Long-tail Boat:

River taxis or long-tail boats are similarly convenient. The Express Boat runs along the Chao Phraya River and cover 30 piers all the way up to Nonthaburi. Long-tail boats are used on the inner canals (khlongs) within the city.
